The following bill was introduced and read the first time :

S. B. No. 42—Mr. Mounts—To remove the county seat of Warren from the village of Lebanon to the village of Morrow, and to authorize the Commissioners to receive donations to the county.

Mr. Beer offered the following resolution :

S. R. No. 32: WHEREAS, The following charges appear in the Cincinnati Enquirer of January 23, 1880, a paper of general circulation State of Ohio :

“ Auditor England, of Hocking county, came to the city this morning to see about the failure of the State to supply his county with the second volume of the Revised Statutes. There is a screw loose. But eight or ten counties have been supplied with the second volume, although the Code has been in force for over three weeks, and, while the State has not had sufficient copies of the second volume to supply the bench and bar, yet they have been on sale at Harrington’s bookstore for some time, and this is why Auditor England wants to know, you know. The books on sale in Logan by private individuals are retailed at the same price charged for them by the State. The Auditor says they bear the imprint of H. W. Derby, of this city, the contractor for printing the volumes for the State. He may be mistaken. However that may be, the printing and sale of them are piracy, and the books are liable to confiscation wherever found. The copy-right of the Revised Statutes has been duly taken out in the name of Milton Barnes, Secretary of State, and the stereotype plates are also the property of the State. It is stated that Derby has secured an opinion from R. A. Harrison that the State can not acquire a copy-right, and that he has taken out one in his own name. This is not, however, very probable.

“ The progress made in printing the Code has been given from time to time in these dispatches. Among other things, mention was made that 1,000 copies of the books, the copy-right of which vests in the State, were being delivered at the bindery of Siebert & Lilley. A State official this morning states that Derby acknowledged to him that this extra edition was being furnished by him. This fact, when connected with the sale of outside volumes in Logan, will give a key to how the plan of using the State’s copy-right is probably being worked. The contract for the printing of the Code was awarded to Derby last summer at a sum over $10,000 in excess over the bids of other responsible parties, among whom were Peter G. Thompson, of Cincinnati; J. G. Brand & Co., of this city, and others equally well established. The excuse for making the award to Derby was that he had extensive experience in publishing, and would deliver the Code on time. In fact, he stated that it was a matter of pride with him, and he would get it out ahead of time. He has not done so, but there is a forfeit of $200 a day in the contract for each day’s delay after the specified time. His last payments have not been made him by the State, and it is thus insured against loss. Neither will Derby be a loser on the whole, for the excess at which he was awarded the contract will cover the deductions due the State, and probably still leave him a surplus.

“ The last sheets of the second volume, according to State Supervisor Elliott, were delivered at the State bindery January 8th, that is to say, the last sheets for 9,000 volumes. When the plates for the second volume were completed the contractor ran off sheets for 3,000 volumes, but the necessary sheets for the other 9,000 volumes were not delivered until the date named. The State Supervisor says that he is now delivering 400 copies of the second volume a day, and that at this rate the last volumes will not all be out until the 1st of February, while the contract with Derby called for their delivery on the 1st of last December”; and

WHEREAS, These charges are amply sustained by common report, and the statements of county officials; and

WHEREAS, Serious injury is working to the interests of the State; therefore,

Be it resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to make a thorough investigation of all the charges alleged as above, and such others as may come to the knowledge of the committee, and are empowered to send for persons and papers; and said committee shall report, at the earliest day, the results of such investigation, with such recommendations as they may deem expedient.

The question being on the adoption of said resolution, the yeas and nays were demanded, taken, and resulted—yeas 25, nays none, as follow:

Those who voted in the affirmative were—

Messrs. Beebe, Beer, Carlisle, Carran, Cline, Creamer, Harper, Harts-horn, Hitchcock, Horr, Kelly, Kirby of Wyandot, Marriott, Moore, Mounts, O'Hagan, Perkins, Pollard, Pringle, Saltzgaber, Sinks, Sullivan, Tyler, Van Cleaf and Wilkins of Tuscarawas—25.

So the resolution was adopted.

The President pro tem. appointed Messrs. Beer, Pringle, Perkins, Saltzgaber and O'Hagan said investigating committee.

“WHEREAS, It has been alleged in some of the newspapers of this State, that the bills for the publication of the proposed constitutional amendments, voted on at the October election of 1879, as rendered and approved by the Supervisor of Public Printing, are largely in excess of what is lawful; therefore,

“Resolved, That the committee on Public Printing of the Senate are hereby required to examine all said bills, and to determine the amounts that ought to be paid upon each, and report the same to the Senate; and power is hereby given to said committee to send for persons and papers for the purposes of said investigation”—

Having made the required examination, report as follows:

The committee find that the bills for publishing said amendments have not been approved by the Supervisor of Public Printing, as alleged in the foregoing resolution, but that as directed by the act of April 14, 1879, he measured the matter contained in said amendments; that he applied the agate unit of measure to the amount of space occupied by minion type, making thirty-three squares of 240 ems each, amounting to $222.75. This measurement the committee regard as excessive, and not justified by the act of April 14, 1879, providing for the publication of said amendments, section 5 of which reads as follows:

“The charges of publication shall not exceed fifty per cent. of the rates established in section one of the act ‘to fix the price of legal advertising,’ passed March 26, 1876, shall be printed in type not smaller than nonpareil, said charges to be uniform, and the cost thereof shall be paid out of the State treasury, from any money not otherwise appropriated, upon the warrant of the Auditor of State, upon vouchers approved by the Supervisor of Public Printing, who shall make strict legal measurement of the matter published.”

The committee find by “strict legal measurement of the matter published,” in accordance with the intent of the law, that each newspaper properly authorized to publish said amendments is entitled to the sum of $141.75 therefor, determined as follows:

Joint Resolution submitting propositions to amend Section two of Article two, Section one of Article three, and Section four of Article ten of the Constitution of the State of Ohio—eleven squares, @ 50 cents for one insertion	$5 50
Eleven squares, @ 25 cents for 25 insertions.....	68 75

Sec. 1899. The common council shall provide, when it shall be required, at the expense of the city, all necessary accommodations within such precincts as shall be contained within the boundaries of such city, for the station-house required for the accommodation of the police force of such precinct, for the lodging of vagrant or disorderly persons, and for the temporary detention of persons arrested for offenses or held as witnesses.

Sec. 1903. The mayor is hereby authorized to create a police relief fund, by assessing on each member of the police force, a sum to be deducted from the monthly pay of each member, not exceeding fifty cents per month. The sum so fixed and deducted shall be by the clerk of the department paid into the city treasury, to the credit of the police relief fund, and shall be used exclusively to relieve members of the police force when sick or disabled from the performance of duty, for funeral expenses, relief of their families in case of death, or for pensions when honorably retired from the force; provided, that whenever a police relief fund has been created and an organization had under existing laws, said organization shall continue to act, and said fund shall be controlled, managed, and used accordingly, but shall hereafter be subject to the provisions of this act and sections 1904, 1905 and 1906 of this chapter.

Sec. 1904. All fines and forfeitures from policemen, all rewards, fees, proceeds of gifts, and emoluments that may be allowed by the mayor to be paid and given for, or on account of any extraordinary service of any member of the police force, and all money arising from the sale of unclaimed property or money, after deducting expenses incident thereto, shall be paid into the city treasury to the credit of the "police relief fund." The mayor shall be trustee of said fund, and shall invest the same, from time to time, when there is a surplus, in United States bonds, bonds of the state of Ohio, or bonds of such city, or bonds of the county in which such city is located.

Sec. 1905. The members of the police force of such city shall make such rules and regulations as to the disbursement of said police relief fund to the members, as they may deem proper, such rules and regulations to be approved by the mayor; and the members of such police force, each having one vote, shall elect annually, on the first Wednesday after the first day of January in each year, a board of seven members from their own number, to be known as the board of directors of the police relief fund, to whom shall be entrusted the entire management of said fund and its disbursement, subject to the approval of the mayor, as hereinbefore provided.

Sec. 1906. Said board shall organize by electing a president and secretary, and no payment of any money shall be made from said relief fund, save for investment by the mayor as hereinbefore provided, except upon the order of said board of directors, upon the order of its president, countersigned by the secretary, and then approved by the mayor. Members who have resigned, or been dismissed from the force, shall have no interest in or claim on such fund; and members who may be honorably retired from the force, shall only have such interest in said fund as may be fixed in the rules and regulations in relation to said fund by the board of directors.

Sec. 1910. Whenever any crime shall be committed in said city, whether the person or persons accused or suspected of being guilty shall flee from justice or not, the superintendant of police shall immediately report to the chief of detectives all facts which may have come to his knowledge concerning the offense, or the accused or suspected parties; and the mayor may, in his discretion, authorize any person or persons belonging to the police force to pursue and arrest such accused or suspected person or persons, and return them to the proper criminal court having jurisdiction of the offense for trial.

Sec. 1911. The mayor and superintendent of police shall each have power to issue criminal warrants in all cases upon the complaint of any person on oath, making the same returnable before the judge of the police court of such city, and they may each commit for examination.

Sec. 1912. The mayor and the clerk of the police department shall each have power to issue subpoenas, attested in the name of the mayor, to compel the attendance of witnesses upon any proceedings authorized by this sub-division, and by the rules and regulations of the mayor; and witnesses for whom such subpoenas shall be issued shall be entitled to the usual fee prescribed for witnesses. The mayor, the superintendent, and the clerk of the police department are hereby authorized and empowered to administer affirmations and oaths to any person summoned and appearing in any matter or proceeding authorized as aforesaid, or to take any deposition necessary to be made under the rules and regulations of the mayor, or for the purposes of this sub-division, and in case any person subpoenaed under this section shall fail or refuse to obey such subpoena, or refuse to take, when required, the proper oath or affirmation, or to answer any proper question, the mayor shall have the same power to compel attendance and punish disobedience as justices of the peace in like cases.

Sec. 1913. Upon complaint being made on oath that any personal property has been stolen or embezzled, and that the complainant believes that such property is concealed in any particular house or place in such city, or within four miles of the corporate limits thereof, the mayor, if he is satisfied that there is reasonable ground for such suspicion, may issue a warrant to search for such property, which warrant shall be directed to some officer of the police force, and shall command him to search the place where such property is suspected to be concealed (which place shall be designated, and the property particularly described in such warrant), and to bring such stolen property before the judge of the police court, and upon the return of such warrant to such judge of the police court, he shall proceed thereon in like manner as if such warrant had been by him issued. No fees shall be allowed for the issue or execution of the warrants aforesaid.

Sec. 1914. All stolen or other property recovered by the members of the police force shall be deposited and kept in a place designated by the mayor. Every such article of property shall be entered in a book kept for that purpose by the clerk of the police department, together with the name of the owner, if ascertained, and the name of the place where found, and of the person from whom taken, with the general circumstances and the date of its receipt, and the name of the officer recovering the same. An inventory of all money or other property shall be given to the party from whom the same was taken; and in case the same shall not, within thirty days after such arrest and seizure, be claimed by any person or persons, it shall, unless otherwise ordered by the mayor, be delivered to the person from whom the same was taken, and to no other person, either attorney, agent, factor, or clerk, except by special order of the mayor; and in case said money or property is, within thirty days, claimed by any other person or persons, it shall be retained by said custodian until after the discharge or conviction of the person from whom the same was taken, and so long as the same may be required in evidence in any case in court, and if such claimant or claimants shall establish, to the satisfaction of the police judge, that he or they are the rightful owners, the same shall be restored to him or them ; otherwise it shall be returned to the accused personally, and not to any attorney, agent, factor, or clerk of such accused person, except upon special order of the mayor, after all liens and claims in favor of the mayor and the city, against the same, shall have first been discharged and satisfied.

Sec. 1917. The superintendent of police, and the lieutenants of police within their districts, shall possess powers of general supervision and inspection over all pawnbrokers, junk shop keepers, cartmen, hackmen, dealers in second hand merchandise, intelligence office keepers and auctioneers within such city, and in the exercise and in furtherance of said supervision, may, from time to time, detail members of the police force to fulfill such special duties in the aforesaid premises, as may from time to time be ordered by the mayor.

Sec. 1920. Whenever the mayor ascertains, or shall receive satisfactory information that any house, room, or premises within such city, or within four miles of the corporate limits thereof is being kept or used as a common gaming house, or common gaming premises, for therein playing for wagers of money at any game of chance, or if the same is kept or used for any lewd or obscene public amusement, or the deposit or sale of lottery tickets or lottery policies, it shall be lawful for the mayor, and it shall be his duty, to authorize and direct the superintendent, or any other officer of the police force, to enter such house, room, or premises and forthwith arrest all persons therein found offending against any law, and seize all implements of gaming, lottery tickets and lottery policies, and convey any person or persons so arrested before the judge of the police court, and bring the articles so seized to the office of the mayor.

Sec. 1921. It shall be the duty of the superintendent of police to cause such arrested persons to be vigorously prosecuted, and such seized articles to be destroyed. And the mayor shall cause the owner of such house, room, or premises, his agent, attorney, or representative, to be notified in writing that such house, room, or premises is being used for an unlawful purpose, and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, attorney, or representative to cause the use of such premises for such unlawful purpose to cease.

Sec. 1922. If any owner, agent, attorney, or representative neglects or refuses, or fails to use diligence, to cause the use of the premises for such unlawful purposes to cease, as provided in the preceding section, within a reasonable time, to the satisfaction of the mayor, he shall, upon conviction thereof, for the first offense be fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars, and shall be committed until the fine and costs are paid; and for the second or any subsequent offense he shall, upon conviction, in addition to the fine, be imprisoned in the county jail not less than fifteen days nor more than three months.

Sec. 1923. Whenever the mayor ascertains, or shall receive satisfactory information that there is any prohibited gaming table, or other gaming device, kept or used in such city, the mayor shall have power to issue, and it shall be his duty forthwith to issue a warrant, directed to the superintendent of police, or some other officer of the police under him, to seize and bring before the mayor such gaming table or other gaming device. The officer charged with the execution of such warrant, shall have power to break open doors for the purpose of executing the same, and for that purpose may have the assistance of the whole police force. And it shall be the duty of the mayor, before whom any such prohibited gaming table or gaming device shall be brought, to cause the same to be destroyed, by burning or otherwise.

B. WILKINS,	F. M. MARRIOTT.
W. H. KIRBY,

Hon. R. G. Richards, President pro tem. of this Senate, said it was not his duty to instruct members how to make a motion.

This refusal of the presiding officer of this Senate to entertain this motion, in opposition to the express law of this body, is not only a flagrant violation of my rights as a Senator, but an insult to the people I represent. In their name I solemnly protest against this act of tyranny, which robs them of a voice in this body, and defeats the object of a representative form of government by the capricious ruling of one man.

I protest, in the name of economy, for this ruling enabled the passage of an extravagant appropriation bill, and, as my constitutional right, I demand that this protest be spread upon the Journal at once.

F. M. ATKINSON.

The following communication was received from the Governor:

THE STATE OF OHIO, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

COLUMBUS, April 6, A.D. 1880.

To the General Assembly:

I have the honor to submit herewith copies of the recent decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States in relation to the valuation, for taxation, of shares of bank stock, wherein the Court hold that the valuation of such property, in the cases decided, was illegal, and in contravention of the provisions of section 5219 of the Revised Statutes of the United States.

But the decisions involve also the question of such valuation as a rule; and the gist thereof seems to warrant the conclusion that any appraisement of such shares, greater than that imposed upon other personal property, entitles holders of such stock to a remedy in the United States Courts.

The immediate result of these decisions will be, that serious embarrassment will arise in the adjustment of questions growing out of the collection of taxes already assessed.

Probably the best method of obviating the difficulty in this regard would be to authorize the Auditor of State, under suitable restrictions, to remit taxes assessed upon such excessive valuation, and upon such estimates as he may deem just and equitable.

For the future, it would seem to be wisest to amend the sections of the Revised Statutes of Ohio which provide for the valuation of shares of stock of incorporated banks by County Auditors, and the equalization of such valuations by local boards, and to repeal those sections of said statutes which provide for a State Board for the final equalization of such valuations, as suggested in the draft of a bill which is submitted herewith for your consideration.

Inasmuch as the operations of the State Board referred to are confined exclusively to bank shares, this fact seems to furnish argument, and perhaps evidence also, that it is the deliberate intention of the State to appraise such property upon a different basis from that on which other personal property is appraised; whereas the court hold that such shares are subject to the same modes of valuation and equalization as other personal property, and that it is the duty of the State to secure such result.

The amendment and repeal suggested would leave the entire matter of the valuation of personal property, moneys and credits, and bank shares, to the local authorities, and place the valuation of all classes of such property upon precisely the same basis, and thus obviate the criticism now raised, that the operation of the law is unequal, and unjust as to one class of property.

It is to be hoped that the local authorities, in the light of these decisions, and charged with the entire responsibility of making valuations, would so act as to conform to the law, giving no reasonable grounds of complaint to any class of tax-payers.

The decisions referred to are sent to the House of Representatives, but one copy of each having been placed at my disposal.

Very respectfully,

CHARLES FOSTER, Governor.

On motion of Mr. Beer, said communication and accompanying documents were referred to the committee on Finance, and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Pond moved to reconsider the vote by which the resolution failed of adoption.

Which was agreed to.

Mr. Marriott moved to amend the resolution by striking out all after the word "practicable", and adding: "that he report the expenses of the same at the next session of this General Assembly".

Which was agreed to.

The question then being on the adoption of the resolution, the yeas and nays were taken, and resulted—yeas 25, nays none, as follows :

Those who voted in the affirmative were—

Messrs. Atkinson, Beer, Carlisle, Cline, Creamer, Eggleston, Fleischmann, Harper, Horr, Hollingsworth, Jackson, Kirby of Hamilton, Marriott, Mounts, O'Hagan, Perkins, Pond, Pringle, Richards, Sinks, Strong, Sullivan, Tyler, Van Cleaf and Wilkins of Tuscarawas—25.

So the resolution was adopted.

The time having arrived for the adjournment of this session of the Legislature, the Journal of to-day was read and approved, and the President pro tem. declared it adjourned until the 4th day of January, 1881, at 3 o'clock P.M.

Attest :

J. C. DONALDSON, Clerk.

APPENDIX.

REPORT OF JOINT COMMITTEE ON RULES.

JOINT RULES.

1. Whenever the two branches of the General Assembly shall convene for any purpose required by the Constitution or laws of the State, such convention shall be held in the Hall of the House of Representatives, unless otherwise ordered by a joint resolution of the two branches. During all such conventions each branch shall be held to be in session as a separate branch of the General Assembly, and be governed by its own rules; and, except in voting at elections, where each member is entitled to a separate vote, shall act as such, and no question shall be considered as carried otherwise than by the concurrent action of both branches; provided, that either branch may, by a vote of a majority of all its members, dissolve such convention by withdrawing therefrom; and such convention may, by the concurrent vote of the two branches, take a recess, or adjourn to a time certain; but such recess or adjournment of the convention shall not be held to be an adjournment or recess of either branch, nor to prevent either from proceeding with its usual business during such recess or adjournment of the convention.

2. In all elections in joint session, a majority of the votes cast shall be necessary to a choice.

3. All messages shall be conveyed by the Sergeant-at-Arms of the House from which they are sent; and in case of the absence or inability of the Sergeant-at-Arms, then by such person as the President or Speaker (as the case may be) may designate for that purpose.

4. When a message shall be sent by either House to the other, it shall be immediately announced at the bar of the House to which it is sent, by the Sergeant-at-Arms, and shall be by the bearer delivered to the Clerk of the other branch at his desk, who shall read the same to the House to which it belongs, in accordance with the rules or orders of the House to which it is to be read.

5. After a bill or joint resolution has passed one House, and is amended and returned by the other House, it shall not be in order for either House to postpone such bill or joint resolution beyond the session; but all differences between the two Houses relative to amendments may be submitted to committees of Conference.

6. In all cases of difference between the two Houses relative to amendments, the order shall be to insist, in the first instance, before adhering; and the first adherence by either House shall preclude a committee of Conference.

7. Committees of Conference shall be appointed whenever any disagreement of opinion shall exist between the two Houses, which committees shall report the result of their deliberations to their respective Houses, and it shall be the duty of that House in which any bill, resolution, or measure, was last acted upon, in case of disagreement, to request a committee of Conference.

8. Whenever the committee of Conference of the two Houses shall disagree, other committees may be appointed; and if either of the two Houses shall disagree to any report of a committee of Conference, such House shall forthwith notify the other of such disagreement, and request another committee of Conference, and thereupon other committees shall be appointed.

9. When a bill or joint resolution shall have passed either House, notice thereof shall forthwith be given to the other House.

10. When a bill shall be introduced into either House, advice thereof shall be given to the other House; but no notice of the presentation or reference of petitions, memorials or remonstrances, or of the appointment of committees, except joint committees, shall be given.

11. When a bill or joint resolution which shall have been passed in one House, is rejected in the other, or postponed beyond the session thereof, notice shall be given to the other House.

12. When any bill shall have passed one House and shall be amended in the other, the amendments shall be engrossed upon a separate piece of paper, and the bill, as amended, shall be fully engrossed, and both returned, with the engrossed bill received from the other House, to the House in which it originated. In such engrossment, sections of bills or joint resolutions amended, shall be engrossed in a plain engrossing hand. Whenever a bill shall be passed in one House and sent to the other, and a substitute therefor is agreed to by such House, in the communication between the Houses, such substitute shall be designated and treated as an amendment to the original bill, and the message relating thereto shall definitely show, as in case of other amendments, how the original bill is amended.

13. When any amendment to a bill shall be ordered to be printed, it shall be with the original bill, and the amendment, if it consists in inserting new matter, shall be printed in italics, so as to designate such new matter; and if it consists in striking out part of the original bill, it shall be designated by brackets, so as to show what part or parts of such original bill have been stricken out.

14. After a bill shall have passed both Houses, it shall be enrolled by the Clerk of the House in which it originated.

15. When a bill or joint resolution is enrolled, it shall be examined by a joint committee of four members from each House, to be appointed a standing committee for that purpose, whose duty it shall be to compare the enrolled with the engrossed bill or joint resolution passed by the two Houses, and correct any clerical errors which may be discovered, and report forthwith to their respective Houses; the report to be signed by a majority of the joint committee.

16. No bill shall be subject to amendment, commitment, or other action of either House after the enrolling committee shall have reported the same correctly enrolled.

17. Each bill and joint resolution shall be first signed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and then by the President of the Senate, who shall fix the date thereto, and be by him delivered to the Clerk of the Senate, who shall immediately deposit the same in the office of the Secretary of State, and take his receipt therefor, which receipt shall be filed with the papers of the Senate.

18. When a bill or joint resolution shall have passed in either branch, and be sent to the other for concurrence, the accompanying documents shall be transmitted with such bill or joint resolution, and when so transmitted, shall take precedence on the calendar of all bills or joint resolutions, resolutions originating, and not yet passed, in the branch to which transmitted.

19. The chairman of each committee of the Senate and House of Representatives, shall, at some time before the final consideration of any bill referred to his committee, give verbal or written notice to the author of the bill, fixing a time when he may be heard by the committee.

20. The Clerks of the Senate and House of Representatives shall cause a calendar for each branch of the General Assembly to be printed and placed upon the desk of each Senator and Representative, before the opening of each daily session, showing, for the day, the bills for second reading, the bills for third reading, the special orders of the day, and the bills in committee of the Whole.

21. When an amendment is made in one House to a bill or joint resolution which originated in the other, it shall require the same number of votes to concur in the amendment, in the House in which the bill or resolution originated, as was required to pass the bill or resolution.

22. All committees of Conference shall consist of three on the part of the Senate and three on the part of the House, unless otherwise specially ordered by both Houses.

23. On the adoption of all joint resolutions, the yeas and nays shall be called in each House.

RULES OF THE SENATE.

The select committee, appointed under S. R. No. 9, to prepare rules for the government of the Senate, beg leave to submit the following:

RULES OF THE SENATE.

RIGHTS AND DUTIES OF THE PRESIDENT.

1. The Lieutenant-Governor shall be President of the Senate, but shall vote only when the Senate is equally divided, and in case of his absence or impeachment, or when he shall exercise the office of Governor, the Senate shall choose a President pro tempore. [Sec. 16, Art. III, Const.]

2. At the hour of ten A.M., on the first Monday in January, the day fixed by the Constitution for the organization of the Senate, the President of the Senate, or in his absence, the oldest man present, who is a Senator elect, shall assume the Chair, and call the Senators elect to order. He shall designate one of them to act as Clerk, and he shall then call the Senatorial districts in their numerical order, and the persons holding certificates of election from said districts shall present the same and take the oath of office. [Sec. 25, R. S.]

3. The President shall take the Chair precisely at the hour to which the Senate shall have adjourned on the preceding day, and shall immediately call the Senate to order.

4. The President shall have the general direction of the Senate Chamber; he shall have the right to name any Senator to perform the duties of the Chair, but such substitution shall not extend beyond an adjournment.

5. He shall preserve order and decorum in the proceedings of the Senate; and in case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct in the lobby, the President, or Chairman of the committee of the whole Senate, shall have the power to order the same to be cleared.

6. All committees, except standing committees, may be appointed by the President. [Rule 6, Senate Journal, 1854.]

7. The President shall sign all acts and joint resolutions, when passed by both Houses; and all writs, warrants and subpoenas issued by order of the Senate shall be under his hand, attested by the Clerk.

8. The President of the Senate shall appoint three pages, who shall serve during the sessions of the Legislature, unless dismissed for cause by the officer appointing, or the Senate. Additional pages may be authorized by the Senate. [Sec. 34, R. S.]

10. When a Senator is about to speak, he shall rise from his seat and respectfully address himself to "Mr. President;" and the President shall announce him as "The Senator from———" [naming his county.] The Senator may then speak, either from his seat or the seat of any other Senator tendered him for the purpose, or from the stand.

11. In all cases the Senator who shall first rise and address the President shall speak first; but when two or more Senators shall rise at once, the President shall announce the Senator who is to speak first.

12. No Senator shall speak more than twice to the same question, except in committee of the whole Senate, or by leave of the Senate; and he shall confine himself to the question under debate and avoid personality.

13. Any Senator, while discussing a question, may read, or cause to be read, from books, papers or documents, any matter pertinent to the subject under consideration, without asking leave.

14. Any Senator may call for a statement of the question, which the President may give sitting.

15. Any Senator may call for a division of the question, and the decision of the President as to its divisibility shall be subject to appeal, as in questions of order.

16. Every Senator present when the question is put, shall vote, unless the Senate, for special reasons, excuse him. A request to be excused from voting shall not be in order unless made before the Senate divides, or before the call of the yeas and nays is commenced; and any Senator requesting to be excused from voting, may make a brief statement of the reasons for making such request, and the question shall then be taken, without further debate.

17. When less than a quorum vote on any question pending in the Senate, the President shall forthwith order the roll of Senators called by the clerk.

If a quorum be present as shown by answering to their names, or by their presence in the chamber, the President shall again order the yeas and nays, and if any Senator refuses to vote, he shall be noted as present, but not voting.

18. While the President or Chairman is putting any question, or addressing the Senate, no one shall walk across the chamber; and while a Senator is speaking no one shall pass between him and the Chair. No person, other than the Clerk, shall remain at the Clerk's desk while the yeas and nays are being called, or ballots being counted.

19. Any Senator has the right to demand the yeas and nays upon any question before it is put; and upon such demand the Clerk shall call the names of Senators in their alphabetical order, and before the result is declared, shall read over the names of those voting in the affirmative and those voting in the negative; and after the call of the yeas and nays has been commenced, no Senator shall be permitted to explain his vote.

20. Any Senator has the right to demand a call of the Senate, and upon such call the names of such Senators shall be called by the Clerk, alphabetically, and the absentees noted.

21. Any three Senators have a right to demand the previous question.

22. No Senator shall vote on any question in the event of which he is individually interested.

23. Any Senator shall have the right to protest against any act or resolution of the Senate, and such protest and the reasons therefor, shall, without alteration, commitment, or delay, be entered upon the Journal. [Sec. 11, Art. 2.]

ORDER OF BUSINESS OF THE DAY.

24. As soon as the Senate is called to order, a quorum being present, the Journal of the preceding day shall be read by the Clerk, and, if necessary, corrected by the Senate.

25. As soon as the Journal is read and corrected, as aforesaid, the President shall call for the presentation of petitions and memorials; bills for second reading; bills for third reading; the introduction of bills; and the reports of standing committees, in the order of their appointment; the reports of select committees and miscellaneous business.

This business shall be disposed of in the order in which it is arranged, and shall not be in order at any other time, unless by leave of two-thirds of the Senators present.

If the calling of the committees is not completed on any given day, the President shall, on the subsequent day, on reaching "Reports of the Standing Committees," commence with the committee next in order after that last called on the previous day.

26. Every petition and memorial shall be referred, on motion, without putting the question for that purpose, unless the reference is objected to at the time of its presentation; and no petition or memorial shall be printed unless by special order of the Senate. [Sec. 59, R. S.]

27. Messages from the House, and communications from either branch of the Executive department of the State, may be received, read, and disposed of at any time, except when the President is putting a question, while the yeas and nays are being called, or while ballots are being counted, unless objection is made to the reading, when the Senate shall decide.

28. The interim between any two sessions of the Senate on the same day shall be termed a recess, and on the reassembling at the appointed hour any question pending at the time of taking such recess shall be resumed without any motion to that effect.

QUESTIONS OF PRECEDENCE.

29. The following questions shall take precedence in the order named :

1. To adjourn.
2. To take a recess.
3. To lie on the table.
4. Previous question.
5. To proceed to the orders of the day.
6. To postpone to a certain day.
7. To commit.
8. To amend.
9. To postpone indefinitely.

MOTIONS AND QUESTIONS.

30. Every motion shall be reduced to writing if the President or any Senator so desires, and whenever an amendment is offered to any bill or resolution under consideration by the Senate, or an amendment to any such amendment, the Senator proposing the same shall reduce it to writing and forward it to the Clerk's desk.

31. When a motion is made and seconded, it shall be stated by the President; or, being in writing, it may be read to the Senate by the President or Clerk before debate.

32. After a motion is stated or read by the President, or read by the Clerk, it shall be deemed to be in the possession of the Senate, but may be withdrawn by leave of the Senate at any time before a decision or amendment.

33. All questions, whether in committee or Senate, except privileged questions, shall be put in the order in which they are made, except in filling blanks the largest sum and the longest time shall be first put.

34. Questions shall be distinctly put in this form: "You who are of the opinion (as the question may be), say 'aye';" and after the affirmative voice is expressed, "Those of a contrary opinion say 'no'." If the President doubt, or a division be called for, the Senate shall divide—those in the affirmative of the question first rising from their seats, and afterwards those in the negative; and the President shall determine by count, announcing the number.

35. When a motion is made to commit to a committee of the whole Senate or to a standing committee, it shall not be in order to amend such motion by substituting any other committee; but if any other committee be suggested, the motion shall be first put upon the committee first named, and afterwards upon the committee or committees suggested, in the order in which they are named.

36. A motion to postpone to a day certain, or indefinitely, being decided, shall not be again allowed at the same stage of the bill or proposition; and if a bill be set for consideration on a certain day, it shall not be considered at an earlier day.

37. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order; but being decided in the negative, shall not be again entertained until some motion, call, order, or discussion shall have taken place.

38. The following questions shall be decided without debate, to wit: To adjourn; to take a recess; to lie on the table; to take from the table; to go into committee of the Whole on the orders of the day; and all questions relating to the priority of business.

AMENDMENTS.

39. No motion or proposition upon a subject different from that under consideration, shall be admitted under color of amendment.

40. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed divisible; and a refusal to strike out shall be equivalent to agreeing to the matter in that form, but shall not preclude further amendment by way of addition.

41. A motion to reconsider must be made by a Senator voting with the prevailing side, except when a bill fails upon its final passage, the motion may be made by any Senator voting upon the question. Such motion must be made within the next two days of actual session of the Senate, (a quorum being present,) after such vote was taken, and the same shall take precedence of all other questions, except a motion to adjourn.

THE PREVIOUS QUESTION.

42. The previous question shall be in this form: "Shall the main question now be put?" It shall only be admitted when demanded by three Senators, and, until decided, shall preclude further debate, and all amendments and motions, except one motion to adjourn, one motion to take a recess, and one motion to lie on the table. All incidental questions, or questions of order, arising after a motion is made for the previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided without appeal, and without debate.

43. On a motion for the previous question, and prior to voting on the same, a call of the Senate shall be in order; but after the demand for the previous question shall have been sustained, no call shall be in order; and the Senate shall be brought to an immediate vote—first upon the pending amendments in their order, and then upon the main question.

44. If a call for the previous question be not sustained, the subject under consideration shall not thereby be postponed, but the business shall proceed as if no such call had been made.

QUESTIONS OF ORDER.

45. If any Senator, in speaking or otherwise, transgress the rules of the Senate, the President shall, or any member may, call to order; and the Senator called to order shall take his seat, if required to do so by the President, until the question of order is decided.

46. All questions of order shall be decided by the President, without debate; such decision shall be subject to appeal to the Senate by any two Senators; on which appeal no Senator shall speak more than once, unless by leave of the Senate, and the President may speak in preference to Senators, rising from his seat for that purpose.

47. If the decision be in favor of the Senator called to order, he shall be at liberty to proceed; if otherwise, he shall not be permitted to proceed, in case any Senator object, without leave of the Senate.

48. If a Senator call another to order for words spoken in debate, he shall, if required by the President, reduce to writing the language used by the Senator which he deemed out of order.

49. All questions of order, with the decisions thereon, from which an appeal may have been taken, shall be noted by the Clerk, and put together at the end of the journal at each session.

THE YEAS AND NAYS—WHEN TO BE CALLED.

50. The yeas and nays shall be called, upon the election of all officers, a majority of those voting being necessary to a choice, and if there be no choice, after ten votings, the person receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. [Sec. 33, R. S.]

51. The yeas and nays shall be called, upon the passage of all bills, and the adoption of all joint resolutions having the force and effect of law, and a majority of the votes of all the Senators elected, shall be necessary to pass either. [Sec. 9, Art. II, Const.]

52. The yeas and nays shall be called, upon motions to suspend a constitutional rule, and three-fourths of the Senate shall be necessary to suspend such rule. [Sec. 16, Art. II, Const.]

53. The yeas and nays shall be called, upon the adoption of all resolutions expending money, and a majority of the votes of all the Senators are necessary to the adoption of such resolutions. [Sec. 22, Art. II, Const.]

54. The yeas and nays shall be called, upon all bills or resolutions giving extra compensation to any officer, or paying any claim not provided for by pre-existing law, and two-thirds of the votes of all the Senators shall be necessary to pass such measure. [Sec. 29, Art. II, Const.]

55. The yeas and nays shall be called, upon the confirmation of all nominations made by the Governor, and spread upon the journal. [Sec. 2, Art. VII, Const.]

56. The yeas and nays shall be called, upon the adoption of all resolutions proposing amendments to the Constitution, and three-fifths of the votes of all the Senators are necessary to the adoption of such resolutions. [Sec. 1, Art. XVI, Const.]

57. The first named member of any committee shall be the Chairman, and in his absence the next named member, unless the committee by a majority, elect a Chairman. No committee shall sit during the sessions of the Senate without leave. The committees shall meet upon the call of their respective Chairman, and in case of his absence, or refusal to call the committee together, a meeting may be called by any two members of the committee.

58. The several standing and select committees of the Senate shall have leave to report by bill or otherwise; and it shall be in order for the Committee on Revision, or on Enrollment, to report at any time, when the Senate is not otherwise engaged; but the report of any committee must be signed by a majority of its members before it can be received at the Clerk's desk, and when the majority of a committee have reported, the minority may present their views.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE.

59. When the Senate shall be ready to proceed to the orders of the day, a motion to go into committee of the whole Senate on the orders of the day shall have precedence of all other motions, except to adjourn, to take a recess, to lie on the table, and for the previous question; and in forming a committee of the whole Senate the President shall leave the chair, and appoint a Chairman, who shall preside, and vote as other Senators.

60. In committee of the whole, bills shall be read by the Chairman or Clerk, and considered by sections, unless it shall be otherwise directed by the committee, leaving the preamble to be last considered. The body of the bill shall not be defaced or interlined, but amendments shall be noted by the Chairman or Clerk on a separate piece of paper, as the same shall be agreed to by the committee, and so reported to the Senate. After being reported, the bill and amendments of the committee shall be immediately taken for consideration, unless it shall be otherwise ordered by the Senate, and again be subjected to discussion or amendment before the question to engross the bill be taken. The rules of proceeding in committee of the Whole shall be the same as in the Senate, so far as may be applicable.

BILLS.

61. Every bill shall be introduced on the report of a committee, or by any Senator in the regular order of business, or by leave of the Senate upon a statement of the objects of the bill. All bills proposing the amendment or repeal of any law shall have noted in the title a distinct reference to the section or law proposed to be amended or repealed; and the Clerk of the Senate shall send no bills to be printed without such notes. All bills shall be read the second time in the order in which they are introduced, and, unless made a special order, shall be placed upon the calendar and read the third time in the order in which they are directed to third reading.

62. If opposition be made to the bill on first reading, the question shall be "Shall the bill be rejected?" If the bill be not rejected, it shall pass to a second reading in the order of proceeding.

63. On the second reading of a bill the President shall state that it is ready for commitment or engrossment; if no motion or order be made to the contrary, it shall be committed to the committee of the whole Senate to be considered in its order; if the bill be ordered to be engrossed, the Senate shall direct on what day it shall be read a third time; but no bill having been amended shall be read the third time without being actually engrossed. Amendments to all House bills, made by the Senate, shall be engrossed in like manner as Senate bills, preparatory to their third reading.

64. When a question is lost on ordering a bill to be engrossed for a third reading on a particular day, it shall not preclude a question to order it to be engrossed for a third reading on a different day, unless a division be called for; but if on a division the question on engrossing a bill, without including the time for its third reading, shall fail, the bill shall be considered as lost.

65. Bills standing in order for third reading shall be taken up and read without a motion to that effect, and (unless otherwise ordered by the Senate) the question shall be put, "Shall the bill pass?" And in case any bill which has been set for a third reading on a given day shall, for any reason, be not read on that day, it shall stand for third reading on the first succeeding day when bills for third reading shall be reached in the regular order of business.

66. When a bill has passed the Senate the President or Clerk shall read its title, and the President shall demand if the Senate agree to its title; and if the Senate is agreed, the Clerk shall make out the title accordingly, and shall certify the passage of the bill upon the back thereof.

67. No bill having been passed or resolution adopted, shall be delayed in transmission to the House because a motion for reconsideration has been made and remains undisposed of. When a motion to reconsider is laid upon the table it shall not carry the bill or resolution with it.

68. After commitment and report thereof to the Senate, or at any time before its passage, a bill or resolution may be recommitted. After bills have been read the third time they shall not be amended, except by re-commitment to a committee, with instructions to amend, which instructions shall embody, substantially, the amendment or amendments proposed.

69. On the passage of all bills making appropriations of money, or in concurring in House amendments thereto, a separate vote on any item, or items therein, shall, on demand of any five Senators, first be had by yeas and nays, entered upon the journal; and every such item failing to receive the majority of all the members elected to the Senate, required by the Constitution, shall be stricken from the bill before taking the vote upon its final passage.

70. All Senate bills shall be printed and distributed for the use of Senators before the second reading thereof; and in case a Senate and House bill has been amended before being placed upon the calendar for third reading, in placing it upon the calendar for third reading the Clerk shall note the fact that it has been amended.

RESOLUTIONS.

71. Resolutions giving rise to debate shall lie over for one day before being acted upon, and if, upon their introduction, or receipt from the House, upon their being first read in the Senate, any Senator shall give notice of a desire to discuss the proposition therein contained they shall lie over for one day; and no motion shall be entertained which may operate to deprive any Senator of the right to give notice to discuss.

72. Resolutions may be offered on leave, or under the head of miscellaneous business.

ADMISSION OF VISITORS WITHIN THE BARS OF THE SENATE.

73. During the sitting of the Senate no person shall be admitted within the bar of the Senate, except members of the two Houses, their Clerks, assistants, and other officers, or persons charged with any message or papers for the Senate, clergymen by invitation of the President, the Governor of this or any other State, Judges of the courts, heads of the different Departments, members of Congress, gentlemen who have been members of either branch of the Legislature of this State, and those who, for the time being, are members of the Legislature of other States, and ladies and gentlemen accompanying them, visiting the Senate Chamber together with such other persons as may, at any time, be specially invited by any member of the present Senate; and the use of the Senate Chamber shall not be granted, at any time, by resolution or otherwise, for any other than legislative purposes, except by the unanimous consent of the Senate.

74. It shall be the duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms and his assistants to prevent smoking, within the Senate Chamber, during the session of the Senate.

THE RULES OF THE SENATE.

75. These rules shall not be altered, except after at least one day's notice of the intention of alteration; and no rule shall be suspended except by a vote of at least two-thirds of the Senators present.

76. Cushing's Manual shall be received as the rule in all cases not provided for in the foregoing rules, and, in cases not provided for by Cushing's Manual, Cushing's Law of Legislative Assemblies shall be the rule.
